— THE HISTORY —

IF BUILDINGS COULD TALK, THIS HOTEL WOULD WHISPER TO YOU THE TALES OF A GRAND HISTORY. BUILT IN 1864 THE HOTEL HAS CREATED MEMORABLE MOMENTS FOR 160 YEARS.

It was not the mountaineering or skiing that attracted the first tourists, but the carbonated and iron-rich Mauritius Spring, which later led to spa tourism when the famed physician, Paracelsus, spread the mineral spring renowned far beyond the Swiss borders. In 1864, Grand Hotel des Bains was built directly next to this highest-altitude therapeutic springs in Switzerland. The original building consisted of two floors and was still without the striking corner towers. In 1887, the hotel received its first renovation, which gave the building a simple North Mediterranean palace look.

In 1905, the two characteristic towers were added. At that time, guests only came during the summer months, attracted by the therapeutic spring, and made St. Moritz one of the most exclusive destinations in Europe.

The hotel remained closed from 1914 to 1958, only reopening briefly in 1928 and 1948 for the Olympic Winter Games. The extensive 14 month renovations that give the Grand Hotel des Bains Kempinski its present aura began in October 2001. The work was carried out by the famed Viennese architect Franz Schnabel.

A JOURNEY TO A ROYAL HERITAGE

The use of old engravings and photographs helped to restore the building's interior and exterior responsibly. Remarkably, beautiful murals can still be admired today in the library, in NEORA and in Ristorante Da Adriano, which creates a unique atmosphere simply because of its magnificent wall and ceiling elements.

By 2023, the Grand Hotel des Bains embarked on another chapter of refinement. A dedicated wing of 26 rooms and junior suites was reimagined to reflect the beauty of the Alps, seamlessly blending nature-inspired design with cutting-edge amenities.
